MADAME JOMELLI THE STAR

Pittsburg Festival Orchestra and Children's Chorus Features on Program,

With Madame Jomelli as the great drawing card, assisted by the Pittsburg Orchestra, under Carl Beruthaler and a corps of eminent soloists, the seventeenth annual music festival of the Wednesday Club will begin to-

Method has never been regarded as a musical city, and in presentias these concerts it is the desire of the Wednesday Club to give the greatest pleasure possible to the patrons of this festival. Therefore, the programs for this festival have been selected with much care, and while not descending to the lightest class of music, they contain much that will appeal to, the popular taste and uncultivated ear.

After a long season of preparation under the distinguished conductor. Tail Ezem Morgan, the Wednesday. This work is being close to the distinguished conductor. Tail Ezem Morgan, the Wednesday Club is now in readiness to present a number of beautiful choral works, the mand, it helps remained that durant much that will appear to the famous artist will be Mendelssohn's ing 'the festival last May Mme. traite, Miss Lillia Snelling, though a young singer, is already a member of the Metropolitan Opera force, and has appeared with this company in seven different operas during the present season. This of itself is sufficient to commend her work to a Richmond audience.

Dr. Franklin Lawson, the tenor, is the only ona of the artists that has appeared with the Wednesday Club at any of its fostivals. His work here was so favorably received that when his name was mentioned in connection with the present festival, it was unanimously voted that he be selected as the principal tenor of the present festival. Frank Croxfon, bass, will make his initial appearance in this sories of concerts, and he comes with the highest indorsement from the great critics of the Northern cities.
